

Hiking in Luxembourg - Lee Trail

The Éislek region in the north of Luxembourg is criss-crossed by valleys and high plateaus with panoramic views, medieval castles and idyllic villages. We hike a section of the 52-kilometer Leading Quality Trail - Best of Europe from Bourscheid-Moulin to Hoscheid. The entire trail can be completed in three days and leads from Ettelbrück to Kautenbach. A hiking pleasure with 2,000 meters of altitude, which rewards you with great views. Lee means crest in Luxembourgish and the Escarpardenne Lee Trail offers plenty of that.

The middle stage of the Escarpardenne Lee Trail is 19 kilometers long and, at a good 900 meters in altitude, also the most demanding of the three sections through the Éislek region. It goes from Bourscheid-Moulin on the Sauer to Hoscheid on the Ardennes high plateau. There are numerous accommodation options in Bourscheid-Moulin. Two hotels and cottage suites with river views and a campground line the shore.

Photos on the topic of the Luxembourg Ardennes – Escarpardenne Lee Trail

You should pack a packed lunch for this stage in the Luxembourg Ardennes, as there are no places to stop for refreshments along the way. Enchanted forest paths, rocky outcrops, lonely valleys, passages with blooming gorse and always a mountain ridge with a good view offer many picnic opportunities. The sign of the white wave on a blue background is the trail's official logo and is a reliable companion along the entire route. In between there are always stage signs of the Escarpardenne Lee Trail. Despite the good signage, it is advisable to turn on a hiking app as your own backup.
